WE MAKE LIVING DREAMS COME TRUE

Do you want a hardwood floor that doesn't restrict you, but gives you pure freedom of movement? One that positively accentuates your living style? One that matches the sustainable and natural aesthetic of our time? Our GlanPark® 3-layered hardwood flooring offers all that and much more.

The desire for individuality is more pronounced than ever before. Our artisanal hardwood flooring allows you to live and experience this individuality in any situation and in any style. You don't have to conform - your new hardwood floor adapts to your wishes, uncompromisingly and unmistakably.

With your desired combination of flooring, you create the basis for many satisfied years with a hardwood floor that fits you perfectly. It is timeless, full of character, and gives you a new quality of life.

EACH PLANK IS REFINED ACCORDING TO YOUR WISHES.

In our Lüneburg workshop, each individual plank of your new 3-layered hardwood flooring undergoes artisanal production processes. Only when you have decided on the final combination of your desired flooring, do our employees begin the production process.

Using selected techniques and high-quality raw materials, we customize and refine the flooring in our workshop. This is done exclusively with environmentally safe oils and stains from Rubio® Monocoat. Our employees work meticulously and with particular dedication for the lively material of wood, turning each individual plank into a fitting part of a larger whole - your dream hardwood floor.

What does „hand-scraped“ mean?

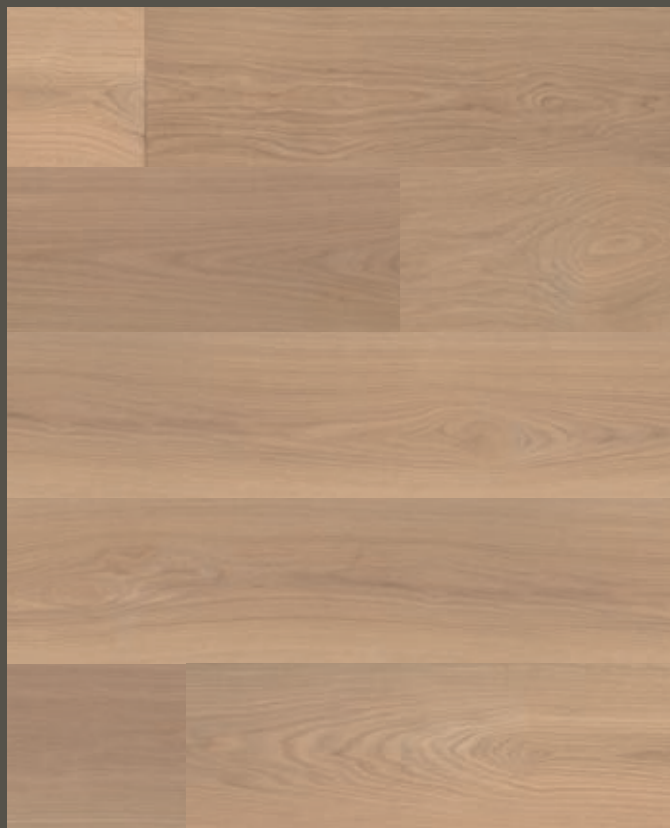

The unique surface is achieved through mechanical processing with pressure and heat. Gentle waves in the longitudinal direction give the floor a natural texture and provide a pleasant and authentic feeling underfoot.

This turns the surface of each hardwood plank into a genuine unique piece.

WHAT MEANS „2G“ AND „5G-C“?

Difference between installation systems

„5G Valinge“ is an installation system developed by the Swedish company Valinge. It is a click system in which the planks are simply locked together. This is done by snapping the tongue into the groove. The system is very easy to install and does not require any additional tools.

Das „2G Dropdown“-system is a different installation system in which the planks are also locked together. Here, the tongue is pressed into the groove until the two planks are level. The system requires a bit more force than the „5G Valinge“ system, but is still relatively easy to install.

Both systems are very effective and can be installed quickly and easily. The choice between the two systems often depends on personal preferences (installer experience), as well as the specific requirements of the project (product availability).

The refreshing liveliness of the parquet is achieved through the surface you choose. Not only does it vary the appearance of the floor, but also the feeling that accompanies you with every step on it. The respective character is created by brushing with wire or nylon brushes. This highlights and emphasizes the grain patterns of individual woods. The individual processing makes each plank a unique piece.

Rubio MONOCOAT

At GlanPark®-Parquet, we offer you versatile effects that give your desired floor its own unique character. By choosing a particular effect, you can skillfully adapt your parquet floor to your style and the ambiance of your living spaces, such as by selecting a smoking or aging effect. Here alone, you will find six different shades. Aging effects are also a selected means of giving the floor a lot of liveliness. We achieve these special effects through the use of a non-reactive pre-stain, which is applied simply and without overlap in our factory.
